Many thanks for your messages and apologies for the delay in getting back to you. As you rightly point out, Forest Holidays have commissioned an extensive suite of ecological survey work at Fineshade Woods.

We appreciate your desire to scrutinise the resulting data yourself as well as ensure this ultimately contributes to the National Biodiversity Network (NBN).

Once the final set of data is available, please be assured that our ecologists as good practice will submit this to the Local Biological Records Centre.

As a partner of the Forestry Commission, we absolutely pride ourselves on protecting and enhancing the forest environment in accordance with the all statutory procedures and practices. Once we are in a position to confidently release data concerning Fineshade into the public domain, this will be available for everyone to use.

Kind Regards
